Don't you wish instead of going to your local grocery that you had to go out and kill your own turkey? Well I wish you had to because I could be more thankful and grateful in that way!

This year as well as a turkey I have been thankful for a lot more things. Some of the other things I am thankful for is my two month old gold and white Jack Russell. His name is Leo and he is so adorable and cute! The one other thing I am thankful for is my two 6th grade teachers Miss Mitchell and Mrs. Nelson and they are the best. These are some of the things I am thankful for but these are smaller things.

Some of the other more important things I am thankful for besides all those other things is always being with my whole family including my mom, dad, and brother. Another thing is having three meals a day and a very warm house to sleep in. Also I am thankful for being able to be educated and have lots of nice clean clothes to wear like jeans and nice shirts plus sweatshirts. Not only are these things I am thankful for they are things I am lucky to have.

Along with all of these other things I am thankful for I am also very lucky and thankful to have a lot of other ad-on things that I have. Some of these ad-on things include an iPhone, iPad, iPod, a big beautiful horse farm to live on and many other things that I do not need but they are fun to have and I am very thankful for them!!!

In conclusion there are many things to be grateful for and sometimes you just have to reach deep down to find out. One thing I do recommend is when thanksgiving comes that you go out and kill your own turkey instead of going to your local grocery. Oh and by the way if you do go out and kill a turkey be sure to follow all fish and game rules! Have a great Thanksgiving and enjoy lots of time and food with your family!!!!
