

There are pumpkins, there are meats.

There are potatoes, there are treats.

There is soda there is pie.

And it all tastes great (no lie).

But are we here to eat?

Are we here to play?

No, we are here to give thanks,

That's my opinion anyway.

If you seek you will find.

If you look you will see.

You have been blessed with many treats,

That you should be thankful for with glee.

You have a family that loves you.

You have a very smart brain.

You have a very nice fortune,

That you worked hard for with strain

Thanksgiving isn't about having no school.

It is not about sports or being very cool.

It is about all your fortune,

And to give thanks and more.

But the real question remains,

What are you thankful for?
