

What I am thankful for

I am thankful for the firefighters. They risk their lives to save our families and homes. Their job is hard and dangerous. Firemen and women go to danger when people are going away from danger. There are small and big jobs for them like rescuing a cat from a tree and going inside a burning building.

Firefighters are angels sent from heaven to protect us. They are my heroes and I admire them very much. They are brave and special men and women to risk their lives for us. I thank God for them.

By: Joshua Packard