

Who I'm Thankful For

There are many things that make me happy and cheerful, but what I am really thankful for in my life are the people I love. The people that I love are definitely my mom Erika, dad Paul, and 3-year old brother John. These three people are always there to support me and encourage me to be and do my best.

My mom and dad are the people who got me to this place in my life. They work very hard for me to get a full pot of food for our family each day. I am positive that without them my brother and I would not be able to live such a pleasant life. My dad and mom are surely my most loyal, best friends and my brother is probably the reason I am always smiling. His words and actions always light up my day and leave me with a positive attitude to share with others. Siblings can be a lot to handle, but with one like my brother you want to clone him and have him with you all the time. My family members can sometimes be a pain in the neck, though they are always there when I need them.

Another person that I am very thankful for in my life is my teacher Ms. Ponder. She subjects me to her me in religion and science. She is very nice and supportive especially during tests where she is always making a fun time out of everything. She is the most funny, nicest, and loving teacher ever!
