To me, to be thankful for someone means that a person has been there for me when I needed help. A person has been there for me despite my actions. Because of this I am thankful for my great grandmother. My great grandmother has been there for me through sorrow and smiles. My tears ly on her shoulders. My laugh remains in her ears. My thoughts are free when we are together. Without her my thoughts would be trapped forever. She wants me to be successful and learn from her mistakes. This is how I determined that she cares for me. Therefore, I am thankful for my great grandmother.
