

What I am thankful for...

By Joseph Kline

"A thankful heart is a happy heart"

I have a happy heart because I am thankful for many things. For example, I am thankful for my family, my house and sports.

The first thing that I am very thankful for is my wonderful family. They give me someone to go to when I need help. Also, my family keeps me company when I am alone. Lastly, my family knows me the best out of everyone I know. These are the reasons I am thankful for my wonderful family.

The second thing I am thankful for is my house. My house keeps me safe when there is a storm. Also, it gives me a place to put all my stuff. In fact, my house gives me a place to live so I don't have to live on the streets. I'm so lucky to have a home.

The last thing I am thankful for is sports. Sports keep me away from bad things. Also, sports teach me good team work. In addition, sports help me stay close to my friends. This is why I love sports so much.

In conclusion, this is why I'm thankful for a house, sports and most importantly family. That is why my heart is so happy.
