WHAT I'M THANKFUL FOR THIS YEAR?

What am I thankful for? Well, I'm Thankful for many things. My family, My home, My life! But, the thing I am grateful and thankful for this year and many years to come, is art and what forms art come in. Which there is in all my 5 senses.

The first sense is probably everybody's favorite, TOUCH. Now, you might think that there go into the SEE category. But, I like to collect beads with different textures. Maybe, like me, you like to collect things with different textures like bracelets, rings, ribbons, jewelry, necklaces and jewelry, mostly.

The next and second sense which is one of the senses people feel lucky having is SIGHT.

And SIGHT is one of my favorites. I have pictures almost everywhere in my room. In my curtains, shirts, jackets, and clothes, I have many paintings and artwork. As I am an artist myself!

My next and third glass in ~~the~~ line is TASTE, of course! My mom is a cook. She ~~has~~ loves to try new things in TASTE. Her main course meal would be chicken. She makes many random meals every night for dinner. It's always a surprise!

The 4th sense is gonna be SOUND or HEAR
TNG. I love to listen on my brother's radio. Artists like Usher, Adele, Beyoncé, and Baby Jany. Most of the time, I always have headphones on during of inter
the sounds of music. All the time! So many CDs from the library. So many to listen to!

And finally, heat, but not heat, SMELL.
Perfume, handsoage, lotion, shampoos, anything that has a scent, I love so much to smell over and over again!

So you see, art is LIFE. And if you have qualities in every form, you can see how great LIFE is. And you can cherish it, as it comes in all 5 senses.
