

WHAT I AM THANKFUL FOR THIS YEAR

There are many things that I am thankful for this year. This Thanksgiving I will thank all my loved ones and God for all the things I have.

The first thing I am thankful for this year is my great family. They support me when I feel down. They take the time to build up my spirits. They provide me with a nice and comfortable life. They do this by working hard in their lives. From my point of view they work hard to earn money so they can provide my brother and I with a great education in a private school, food, beds, and other things we need in life. They also stand up for me when they feel that I am being treated unfairly by others. My parents also assist me in helping me make new friends. They do this by arranging playdates with other children.

In addition to my family, I am thankful for my friends and teacher. Eleni, Skyler, Cheyenne, Lila and my teacher, Mrs. Thalia make me smile everyday. My friends and teachers help cheer me up when I feel sad. I am really thankful to have them beside me.

Finally, I am thankful for my pets, My guinea pigs, Izzy and Peeps stare at me in the eyes. I could tell that they love me. They are so cute. They look like fluffy cotton candy. My pets play with me when I have no one around.

In conclusion, I am thankful for all the special people and animals in my life. They make me feel happy and smile inside. Many have told me that my happiness is also visible on the outside. There are many experiences that I can recall to be thankful for, but these are the most important ones in my life.
