What I Am Thankful For This Year

This year I am thankful for so many things. I am thankful for my friends, my school, and my health. What I am thankful for the most is that I have a family. My family includes my mom, dad, uncle, grandfather and some fish. I am grateful to be with them everyday. Not everyone can say that they have a family. Some people are alone in this world or don't talk to their family members. I feel very lucky to have one.

Among the many reasons as to why I am thankful for my family is that that they love me unconditionally, even when I make mistakes. They are always there to protect me no matter what. My family supports me in whatever I decide to do, but they will also give me advice so I can make good decisions. They love me so much that they make many sacrifices such as working long hours in order to provide for me. I try not to take that for granted. They are also good role models. My mom is in graduate school getting her Master's degree. She also works full time and takes care of us. Her hard work has shown me that you can do anything.

I think that everyone should be thankful and grateful to have people that care and love them. Family is such a beautiful thing! I wish that everyone could have a family or someone who cares for them as much as mine does. It feels so good to be loved. Every night before I go to bed, I give thanks to God for giving me my family and for Him to watch over and protect them.
