I am thankful for my family. My mom because she loves me more than anything, she takes care of me every day, she teaches me how to cook, she buys me clothes. My dad because he loves me, takes care of me, takes me hunting, plays soccer with me, and teaches me new things. My sister because she loves me, she teaches me how to be sneaky, teaches me to improve in sports, and is tricky to get along with so it is a challenge and I like it that way. My puppies because they play with me, they always want to see me, and when I am sad they always cuddle with me, and one of my dogs Luci races with me so it is pretty cool. My only wish is that other kid's could have a family that makes them feel as special as mine.
