What I am Thankful For...

I am thankful for many things. Somethings are my family, my teachers, and my siblings. All these things are very important to me. I love this time of year because I am thankful for everything. And I get to write about it. I love all these things and I can't wait to share them with you.

I have kind of a big family. I have a mom, a dad, a sister, and a brother. My parents have really cool jobs. My dad works in New York City and he is the surgeon's helper. My mom works here in the middle school. My sister is in 2nd grade, at Taft Elementary School. And my brother goes to school also here in the middle school, and he is in 8th grade. They are all really funny and almost everyday we all sit on the couch and watch a movie or a show. They all are very important to me and I am very thankful for them.

Now I am going to talk about my teachers. I go to school at Washingtonville Middle School. I am in 6th grade and I have the best teachers ever. My teachers are Mrs. Gaine and Mrs. Manngard. Those are my ELA, Social Studies, Science, and Math teachers. I also have six other teachers that teach me and my classmates what we need to know. Without my teachers I wouldn't know what I know right now. So I am very thankful for my teachers.

One more thing I am thankful for is my siblings. I am very thankful for my siblings because without them I would probably be an only child. That would be pretty boring in my opinion. I have two siblings. I have an older brother in eighth grade. His name is Anthony and he is thirteen years old. I also have a younger sister that is in second grade. Her name is Mya and she is seven years old. They both are really funny and really fun to be around. I am very thankful for my siblings and I'm glad that they are my siblings.

I am very thankful for these things. My life would not be complete without them. I am very thankful for my family, teachers, and siblings. I am very happy that these people are in my life. Now you should go and tell your family that you are very thankful for them! Happy Thanks Giving!!!
