

Thanksgiving

By: Katerina Liveris

This thanksgiving I am grateful for my family because they take me to a great school, for my education. I live in a nice home and a nice town. I am thankful for the people that serve in the army for our freedom. For my parents because they are very strong people, and they also believe in me. Also for my teachers that believe in me even if i give up. I am so thankful for my siblings that love me no matter what. Also for the town I live in because I have great friends that hang out with me for me for who I am. For America because they give us freedom, and it is a strong country. That is what I am thankful for this thanksgiving.
