

Thanksgiving By: Joe Armstrong

This Thanksgiving, I'm thankful for, freedom, video games, my family, and friends. I'm thankful for, shelter, school, my life, and our safety. I'm thankful for, books, food, clothes, water, and the fact that I can do whatever I want for a job when I grow up.

I'm thankful for all this, because it is what keeps me living! Freedom is not free, I know that, my parents have taught me this important lesson. I'm thankful for freedom, because it is this freedom that gives me hope for the future.

I'm thankful for religion, because I can practice which ever one I want! I'm thankful for equality, because now nobody is patronized for their race! This Thanksgiving, I will be thankful for a lot things. But I'm most thankful to my father and his service to our country protecting all of our freedoms. I hope you as well. This is what Thanksgiving's all about!
