Thanksgiving is almost here and it's a special day for family to come together to tell them what they're thankful for each and every year. I will tell you three things I am thankful for this year. First I'm thankful for my families love towards me. The second thing I'm thankful for is my life! The last thing I'm thankful for are my friends.

I am thankful for the love my family has for me because they always show me and tell me how much I am loved and how thankful they are to have me in their lives. My mommy and daddy would do anything to make me happy. I am thankful for my life because God created me. He made me kind and loving toward my family and friends. God gave me all my emotions and talents so I can share those with people in my life. Even when I am angry I remember that God gave me life and I am so grateful. I am also thankful for my friends. When you have friends you will never be alone and always have somebody to play with and be with you by your side.

Many people think this holiday is all about food but I believe it's about family and friends creating memories and saying what they're thankful for. That's why I told you what I'm thankful for. I wonder what you are thankful for this year? Thanksgiving is great for family and friends to be together. Happy ThanksGiving.
