

The thing I am thankful for is family. I know they fight with each other but that means they love each other. And my brother fights with me but sometimes he's cool he plays outside with me and he plays video games with me. Also my sister can be a little angry and sometimes she is sad but most of the time she is happy and cute. And another thing I am very thankful for my family for all the times they took care of me. That was the thing that was thankful in Thanksgiving.
