I am thankful for my mommy and daddy. My daddy buys me beef to eat for dinner, and my mommy brings me to school. My mommy cleans the house, helps me with homework, feeds me teaches me how to play piano and plays with me. She also helps me clean or throw away all my babby stuff and toys from our messy messy big closet. Our closet looks small because it is piled up with so many things like old junk, old toys, or my parents old stuff. There are some things in the closet I am thankful for like my luggage, so we can travel to different places around the world during vacation time. I am also thankful for the two old pillows in the closet because I think they are comfortable
