

A Special Place

Samantha Francilus

A day that is often forgotten but has the utmost importance

A day that celebrates memories

A day that prioritizes life

A day that highlights both flora and fauna

A day that's absconded in the depths of our thoughts

Oceans Blue

Polluted with waste

Midnight stars

VANISH

BIT

BY

Cause: polluting light

Flowers bloom sporadically

Climate changes

Too warm

Permafrost melts

Polar bears are vulnerable

Tides increase

Surplus of water

The biosphere DEERIORATES

The BEAUTY of planet Earth is tremendous

But

The LIFE of Earth is jeopardized

We as inhabitants

Need to cherish

The oceans blue

The forests green

The Morpho butterflies, which are so vibrant,

So bright

The mountains with peaks beyond vision

Fresh soil gifted a crisp, earthy scent

White puffy clouds on a sunny day

Rainbows that give us hope after a period of rain

Earth Day helps us celebrate something extraordinary
