

I am thankful for having a roof over my head that has clean running water and that has protection over weather complications. And that keeps me safe and sound every night. And I'm glad we are able to pay the rent everyone months.

I'm thankful for my mom because she does everything in her power to make me as happy as she can. And I'm glad that she is able to put food on the table every day, paying for clothes, buying things for me and showing me love and affection, and for always supporting my dreams and ambitions.

I'm grateful for my grandma because helps me with anything i need if it's to cook something or it cloud be her explaining something to me. She's always there to help me any time I need her. I am grateful to her because she supports me in every way possible, and that's what I love about her.
