

Gratitude essay

God gave me many things to be thankful for: a loving family, loving friends, enough to afford to go to EPCS, a nice home, food, etc. Though I am very grateful for God's grace and His presence. I am a human and I sin every second of my life, but He forgives my stupid sinning self and He's always there for me. I would not be able to forgive myself but He does. I am so grateful that I do not have to go through life alone. If I did I would not be able to make it though. I am so grateful that God will always be with me and will always forgive me. Thank you, God. Thank you.
