

Andrea Yi

Thanksgiving Day

10/28/25

Senator Joseph P. Addabbo, Jr.

What I Am Thankful For

There are many things in this world that I am thankful for. But I can only have one that I am thankful for most. That, is all the kind people in our world. I am thankful for all the kind people in our world because you may be in trouble, but there is always someone there to.

To support this, I will share an experience that I had once. It was during the winter time where my Dad and I went to a skating rink. My Dad asked me to get some food and a drink inside the cafe. After I paid and got my food, I had some trouble to try and pick up the food, drink, and change. I was in a very hard decision. I needed some help to carry the food but I was inside and my Dad was outside so I couldn't call him. I couldn't go to him because I was afraid that if I did, someone would take the money and food. Suddenly, a woman near me asked, "Do you need help?" "Yes!" I answered with relief.

At first I thought that she was going to help me carry. But thinking of it now, she would have had to leave the line and get skipped. Instead, she told me to put the money in my pocket, put the food in one arm, and hold the drink with the hand that's not holding the food. I was very relieved and thankful. I thanked the woman and left happily.

As you can see from my experience, some people that you may not know help you when you are in need. The kind gesture made me understand that anyone can be there for you, when you are in need.

So in conclusion, this is what I am grateful for. The people in our world.