

I'm So Thankful!!!

Grateful for the Everyday Heroes.

There are three types of people I appreciate.

I am grateful for police officers because they protect us from dangerous people and prevent crimes. In addition, I appreciate firefighters because they save us from fires and rescue us when we are trapped. Finally, I am thankful for doctors because they save us from germs and bacteria when we are sick. They also support us when we are mentally hurt.

These are three types of people that save our lives in different ways, and I'm thankful for everything they do.
