

I Am Thankful For My Family

By Daniela Dinuzzo

First of all, people should know that my parents are the best parents in the world. I am thankful for my parents because they let me play lacrosse, soccer, and basketball. They love me, support me. I love my parents. They are the best.

My first reason I am thankful for my parents is because they let me play lacrosse. First when I play lacrosse I can become a better athlete. Next they also let me play basketball and basketball also makes me stronger. Finally, they let me play the sports I want to play. They pay for the sport, they get me all of my equipment, they drive me and cheer on the sidelines for me.

The second reason I am thankful for my parents is because they love me. One reason is they love me because they pay for my trip to Florida. Another reason is we went to Florida for a family trip because my parents love me and wanted to bring me to see my grandparents. My last reason is in Florida my mom paid for everything I wanted like jewelry and clothes. I had so much fun shopping with my mom.

My third reason I am thankful for my parents is because they support me. For example when I am sad my parents come and give me a hug. Another reason is my parents help me practice lacrosse by having a catch with me in the backyard. Lastly they help me by paying for stuff that I need for a school project or lacrosse stuff.

In conclusion I think my parents are really good parents. I think my parents are the best parents out there because they let me play lacrosse, basketball, and soccer. They love me, and they support me. They are the best parents because they made a haunted house in my basement on Halloween night. They are the best parents out there!
