

What Are You Grateful For?

It's a difficult question to answer, because there is so much in life to be thankful for. Your family and friends, shelter and food, your bedroom or even your favorite pokemon card. Being Grateful is a good thing to be. I have a lot of things I'm grateful for and a lot of ways to say it and I'm gonna share those ways with you. So sit back, relax and enjoy this essay.

The first thing I'm grateful for is all of the best parts of the people that are important to me. My Dads smiles and happiness, my Moms love, my Grandmas kindness, my Sisters laughter, my cousin Kalan's silliness, my other cousin Chase's excitement, Sophia's creativity, Josh's proudness, both of my aunts happiness, both of my uncles positivity and every single one of my friends thoughtfulness. These are the best parts of the people I love. I am so grateful to have friends and family that I can count on. Thank you guys.

Another thing I'm grateful for is my home. It is so cozy and has so many memories trapped inside of it. Like Christmas or birthdays or even fun family time just sitting and watching a movie or playing bored games. I love to watch movies around christmas time , coming downstairs to look at all the presents on Christmas, and coming home from trick or treating and counting my candy and eating it. I also really love family time. My favorite time is dinner. We all get together and talk and eat whatever meal my mom cooked for us. That is why I am grateful for my home.

I am also so grateful for my mom. She works so hard and helps me and my sister whenever she can. She cooks our meals, cleans the house and even folds our laundry (mostly because me and my sister can't fold). I love my mom so much. And I know she loves me too. She helps me and my sister through hard times and good times. I love having alone time with her. It means so much to me when I'm with her. She also pays for our family vacations we have. If it's with cousins or grandparents or just with my family. I love her so much. And thank you to her. That is why I am so grateful for my mom.

These are the things I am grateful for and why I am grateful for them. Happy Thanksgiving and thank you for reading this essay today.
