

Thankful For

This year I am thankful for my sister because she use to have cancer and she recovered a tiny bit but it came back and now she needed to shave her hair because it got so bad, I was crying alot because I wasn't old enough to visit her in the hospital, I was deeply sad but now she is recovering a tiny bit but she says he feels better.

Something eles I am thankful for is people who protect Amer. ca and keep people save. I am talking about police, officers, The Army and doctors, They help us survive and live.
