

WHAT GABRIELLA CICERO IS THANKFUL FOR.....

Being thankful means to show gratitude and appreciation for what we have in life. It's important to show thankfulness because it makes other people around us feel happy. There are many things that I am thankful for in my life, but I am only going to mention four most important. My family, home, teachers, and stuffed animals.

I am thankful for my family because they are nice and caring, they help me grow as a person. For example, they help me with homework. My mom helps me with reading and projects. If my mom doesn't understand my math, my dad takes over and explains it to me! Also, as soon as I get out dance, they pick me up. My grandma also took us to Alaska on vacation. This allowed me to spend time with my family. We went to restaurants, rock climbing, and mini golf! My family makes me feel happy and comfortable. Family is important to me because if I didn't have them in my life I wouldn't have all the things in it!

I am very thankful for my home, it provides me shelter and enjoyment. My house is very special to me because I have a play gym in my basement. When my friends and cousins come over, that's where we go to play. We also have an upstairs attic that I like to hang out in. When it gets cold, I shut the windows and all my old toys are up there with me. My favorite thing is that in my living room I have a large floor where I can practice my dancing. I appreciate the house that I live in because it is big and my room is bigger than my brothers!

The teachers in my life teach me new things and help me grow. My third grade teacher helped me a lot. She showed me how to be organized and I was very comfortable in that classroom. All the teachers in my life have taught me new things like division and how to spell big words. The teachers have patience, kindness.

Finally, I love my stuffed animals and I am thankful for them because they help me sleep at night. Also they're very soft and very cuddly. Stuffed animals are important to me because when I'm sad I can hug them tight.

In conclusion, I am thankful for my family, home, teachers and stuffed animals they make me feel very happy in life.
