

I Cry But I Live This Year through the storm, I still give thanks I'm Thankful

Piece by Piece

Relief

This year try to break me

Cried just for a moment of peace

Cried at moments, No one could see

But those tears build strength within me

Fought the words i whispered at night "I cant take no more"

In the darkness I still choose to thrive

I found courage that wasn't easy to find

Im still standing - im still here

Im here to show my thanks

To the light that showed up

And filled up wounds that felt stuck

Here I stand taking within

All the strength i had to find to lift my head and myself within

I found thanks in everyway

Especially every morning i wake up to just like today

Thankful for this year

I Cry But I Live This Year through the storm, I still give thanks I'm Thankful
