

Gratitude Essay
By Jessi Bermudez Saravia, Grade 7th

This year I am really thankful for my parents because they've always been there for me and have never given up on me. A specific person I'm extremely thankful for is God even though he's a spirit and you can't see him. If you're talking about a person you could actually see and that is actually alive then I would have to say my mom. There is just so much to say about my mom, she's the reason I'm here right now she is the one that gave me my life, she just does so much for me.

I am grateful for so many things but the most important people that have made an impact in my life are obviously my parents and god. My parents have impacted my life because they literally raised me, they fed me since day one, they've just always been there for me no matter what. I'm grateful to god because he wakes me up every morning and he's the one that is always there right by my side even though you obviously can't see him but he is always there.

I am grateful for my parents because some people don't even have parents or they just have a mom but no father figure and then other people have only a father figure and no mother which is why I am grateful for both of my parents. My parents have always shown love and affection towards all of their children. Even when my parents have a bad day at work or just a bad day in general they never take it out on anyone no matter what even if that person is being really rude to them or is just saying out of pocket stuff.

I'm extremely grateful for God because he is the one responsible for nature and responsible for the whole universe. Even though I've never actually seen god face to face but I just know that he's always there watching over me. God does not give us what we can handle. God helps us handle what we are given. Even though sometimes God doesn't answer our prayers, maybe it's just for the best. God is what protects us from stuff we can't see or helps us overcome it.

All of these things are very important to me. Overall I am extremely thankful for everyone and everything around me. This is why I am grateful for everything and everyone everywhere. I think everyone should be extremely thankful for everything around them because they wouldn't realize how lucky they are to have stuff until it's completely gone.
