Thanksgiving poem

One day a year, November 28, people post pictures showing their thanks, everywhere you look,
a turkey you will see,
all you will hear,
is pass me the stuffing please, everyone appreciates the green and yellow leaves, the time off from school, to spend with family, But why only this one day, why only on November 28 people are thankful, everyday there is so much to be grateful for,
from waking up and your body working, or having what to eat and a place to be, Spend time with your loved one, who you usually don't get to see,
Take a minute or two everyday,
To think back on what you were grateful for that day, you should be thankful everyday, but only on one day a year its recognized, thanksgiving should be everyday!
