

What are you thankful for?

I am thankful for my Amazing MOTHER. She was there at all my school events. I am thankful for having an amazing mother that loves me. She was there for hurt, happy and sad. She was with my problems and also understood me. Having a mother that loves you and understands you and gets stuff you want and need is an amazing mother. My amazing mother loves me so much and would never ever leave me.

An amazing mother warns you. An amazing mother yells at you cause she loves you. An amazing mother tells you to be good. An amazing mother hugs you. An amazing mother kisses you. These things can only tell your amazing mother that love you and wants the best for you. My mom always tell me to be kind & always have fun but be careful what you see and choose because it might look good but behind there is bad and only an amazing mother does that for your good. That is an amazing mother who loves you so much.

The times that were with my two siblings, me and my amazing mother were having a hard time when we came here to NEW YORK. We were living in a one room apartment. It was ok but my mother made ways to make a room more like a home for use. She bought me stuff I wanted even when we were having a hard time. My amazing mother had time for me every time. She loved when I was happy and laughing. When we found a house in Long Island we had a hard time but my mother put me in an amazing school called Evergreen Charter School that helped me learn and provided my food and let my mother work more longer because I went home in a bus which helped my mother a lot and that was what an amazing mother would do for you.

These ways show how I love my amazing mother who gave me love and tried her best to be in my life and always. Way to make things better than it was. This is what an amazing mother that loves you and always tries her best to keep a smile on my face

THE END

For :An amazing mother
