What the world doesn't understand is how lucky we are to have mothers, especially me because my mother cooks, cleans, and works like there's no limit. Let me give you an example of how grateful I am for my mother. On 17th of November I had forgotten my project at home and it was due that day and of course I panicked. So, my mother went all the way back home on the bus to pick up my project and then waited for the bus and returned all the way back to my school, P.S.35. Can you believe it? Well I can because my mother is truly amazing. I am grateful for her for all of the things she does for me, my siblings, and my father. If there is a synonym for "love" or "selflessness," it must be mom, and for that I am truly grateful everyday.
