

Thanksgiving Poem

I could only fit so many people.

To my idols, thanks for showing the way.

My parents and grandparents, thank you for keeping me safe.

My turtles for teaching me responsibility.

Rick Riordan for igniting the curiosity in me.

I will never be Phoebe if i never found these people.

How could i? These people are the components of me. They make me, me.

I tried to make this as heartfelt as I could, but I cannot put it in words. Thanks again. You've all been the compass in my life.
