

Thankful for the Little Things

This year I have been thankful,
Thankful for so much.
Thankful for potatoes
But perhaps that's because I'm Dutch.

I am thankful for my friends,
Each time we laugh so heartily,
We laugh at such silly things,
That no one else finds funny.

I am thankful for my family,
Even though we fight a lot,
We somehow always end up laughing,
Or reconciling, as we ought.

I am thankful for my school,
All those excellent teachers,
Who tell us all about the truth
Enough that they should be preachers.

I am thankful for each little moment,
The ones that build up memories,
Things I won't forget so soon,
Things that will never leave.

I am thankful for so many things
I could have pages more
I am thankful for the little things,
Those things that I adore.
