

What I am Thankful for...

I am thankful for my parents. I am thankful for my parents because they are my biggest supporters. When I first started my first day of preschool they were there. When I started my first day of elementary school they were there. When I started my first day of middle school they were there. Even though I was hard to deal with and me and my siblings didn't listen and fight they got us through it. When I said I wanted to travel softball that changed their lives. We don't have much free time now but they still help me with it. They get me to my games on time. They support me when bad things and good things happen. They help me and my siblings have amazing holidays like Christmas, Easter and Halloween. When I'm sad they make me feel better and when I don't listen they calmly talk to me. When I broke my pinkies they helped get through with it. When I hurt my foot at my birthday party they got me everything I needed. They got me the help I needed. When I started flag football they made sure I had the stuff I needed and got me there on time. They get mad at me and my sibling once and a while but we always pull through. They work hard to get money and get food on our plates, and they do a great job. They get us a ton of things we want and still get food on our plates. They seem like super heroes to my little sister. My brother did many sports at once and they still managed with like five sports. I could probably name millions of more reasons but I have to keep this on one page. I was just trying to say I'm thankful for my parents.
