Prompt: Is Thanksgiving more about food, family, or gratitude? Why?

Thanksgiving is more about food, family and gratitude. why? because Thanksgiving has the word "thanks" in it. So that's why they say thankful for a person. BY the way, lets go back to the question. Thanksgiving is about food family and gratitude because there is more food like for example, ~~SA FEAST~~ more family means by more family, more fun, and more gratitude... I don't know what gratitude means. but let me ask my teacher. Ok I am back at writing. So gratitude means grateful. Oh that gives me an idea! I am grateful for... hmmm... what about art class? I do love art. That is my hobby. So I will say I am grateful for my hobby. I am's going to show my art that I drew on the back of this paper, or on top of this paper I am writing on. by the way, being a doctor gives a lot of money so I will be a doctor when I grow. ITS Important to me because I am a Nigerian. I have a lot of family members so I have more fun!

Prompt: Is Thanksgiving more about food, family, or gratitude? Why?

Thanksgiving is about family because you all get to talk as a family and you can make more family members and get to see your grandparents and your aunts and uncles and stuff that's giving what Thanksgiving is about not food your family. I'm thankful for me having a house and a mom that gives me food and works hard to get a house for us and food I'm thankful for my dad for him for helping my mom where she needs it and helping me where I need it like for math he gives me food where I want some and my step mom helping me out in class and give me food like my mom and dad

Prompt: Is Thanksgiving more about food, family, or gratitude? Why?

Thanksgiving is more about gratitude because you say what you are grateful for and how you are grateful for it and about thanksgiving food. In the days people were saying what they were grateful for back in the days right now people are eating in thanksgiving is turkey, brannies, peas, green beans and more. Thanksgiving is showing what your family and friends mean to each other and how they care for you. Thanksgiving shows how you are grateful for your family. What I'm grateful for my family because they care for me and they take care of me and they love me. I'm also grateful for my friends they play games with me and they listen to me and they talk to me. Thanksgiving shows how you care for them and how they care for you.

Prompt: Is Thanksgiving more about food, family, or gratitude? Why?

Thanksgiving is more about family because that is the day people like me and my family all come to the table and gathered around the table and pray because on thanksgiving it is the day that God goes around the world and pray with them even if they are homeless even if they are in the hospital even if they don't have a life we will still come around and pray and even if they don't have a roof over their head. Even thanksgiving is when muslim go on their knee and put their head on the floor and start's praying and then they will walk around and pray again and then have church. This is the reason thanksgiving is more about family then food, and gratitude. Even if you don't have food at least you are praying to God for him to know that you love him.

Prompt: Is Thanksgiving more about food, family, or gratitude? Why?

I think that Thanksgiving is more about family because some family members live far away from you and you might not see them again because they live far and might move to a different state or country and then you will not see them until they come back home. They might never come back home they might stay there. I'm thankful for Mr Mom and dad because they give me food they put a roof over my head they get me shoes to put on and I'm thankful for the rest of my family too. I'm thankful for Mr friends and my teachers.

Prompt: Is Thanksgiving more about food, family, or gratitude? Why?

To me it's more about food and family because when it's Thanksgiving it's important to be thankful to food and family, or not but it's still important to be grateful of what you have. but it's good to be thankful but what I'm grateful for is food family and manners when it's Thanksgiving because you need manners so bad things will not happen. and also before I go to bed on Thanksgiving I will pray and never stop thinking about that special day and also about having yummy Thanksgiving food like candyams and mac and cheese and also my mom. I am grateful about being grateful of having family and grateful about not being sick or having no roof over my head and also I will never will feel like I am alone. but my mom is there for me always. and I'm grateful for the fun and more things that will happen that day. and because many people on earth don't have family but it's all about fun and celebrating the day with family.

Prompt: Is Thanksgiving more about food, family, or gratitude? Why?

Thanksgiving is more about family and friends because you get to spend time with those people. I am grateful that I'm not in the hospital taking a SHOT because those things, I am NOT used to. I am also grateful for my grandmother because one time she gave me more than enough money on my birthday to reach $100/so I had $101 and when she is with me she buys whatever I want even McDonalds and I know she does NOT work in the army anymore. I am grateful for my uncle as well because sometimes before I come to visit or sleep over there he keeps like 1 or 2 chocolate bars and then I get to have one when I come and one time me, my uncle, and my aunt went to "Aldi's" and he got me a plushy and I named it corny because it looked like a corn on a cob.
