Light, light, light. All through the shining night. Shining left to right, beauty in fresh air, what a wonderful affair! Light is different for each person that sees it. For different kinds of traits lie beneath it!

The Hudson River
is so beautiful and nice.
It lights up the city
day and night.
When the day is through,
I look at you.
Silver stars shine
so very bright.

Stars and
rainbows light up the sky, whether it's dark or bright
outside.

Different colors in the air, clouds and
sparkles
everywhere!

New Beginnings

Sometimes I think about life. I lay in the palm of the universe, and let myself unfold like a book. I ask myself questions like, "What will the world be like in the future?" WILL WE SAVE THE UNIVERSE! "How will it change?" "Will we find a way to survive on Mars?" "Or swim to the deepest depths of the sea?" "Will we make new discoveries of the wild?" "What would they be?" As I wonder and wander, as my breath rises and falls, I soon find myself asleep dreaming of my thoughts that will be answered someday.

Nuevos comienzos

A veces pienso en la vida. Me recuesto en la palma del universo y me dejo desplegar como un libro. Me hago preguntas como: "¿Cómo será el mundo en el futuro? ¿SALVAREMOS EL UNIVERSO? ¿Cómo cambiará? ¿Encontraremos la manera de sobrevivir en Marte? ¿O nadaremos hasta las profundidades del mar? ¿Haremos nuevos descubrimientos en la naturaleza? ¿Cuáles serán?" Mientras me pregunto y divago, mientras mi respiración sube y baja, pronto me encuentro dormido soñando con mis pensamientos que algún día tendrán respuesta.

Earth is something we all share, but we litter everywhere! There is plastic in the sea, bottles on the shores, bags on the sidewalk, and even more! We need to change the world to make a difference too, but we need to work together to make it brand new!
